Heavy and painful periods are not normal. Adenomyosis can affect your daily life with severe cramps, excessive bleeding, and chronic pelvic pain. At Seven Moons Hospital, Dehradun, we provide advanced laparoscopic & robotic treatment for faster recovery and better women’s health care. Consult our experts today.

What is Adenomyosis?

Adenomyosis occurs when the tissue lining the uterus grows into the muscular wall of the uterus. This condition can lead to painful and heavy menstrual cycles, pelvic discomfort, and enlargement of the uterus.

Women between the ages of 30 to 50 are more commonly affected, though it can occur at any age.

Common Symptoms of Adenomyosis

Women with Adenomyosis may experience:

Heavy or prolonged menstrual bleeding
Severe menstrual cramps
Chronic pelvic pain or pressure
Pain during intercourse
Enlarged or tender uterus
Lower abdominal discomfort
Fatigue due to excessive bleeding

If these symptoms continue for a long time, medical consultation is important.
